

How to establish a connection in the distribution network?

You must be a natural or legal person.

Apply for a new connection at DSO customer care centers.

Specify the type of connection;

- a) Connection of facilities (residential or business)
- b) Increasing the strength of the existing connection;
- c) Request for temporary connection

Follow the instructions provided in the study conducted by DSO company about the connection point.

DSO determines the conditions and the manner of realization of the new connection as well as the technical parameters of the equipment that shall serve for the connection with the Distribution Network.

The Network Operator tests the connection.

Carry out the work for the new connection, including the construction, maintaining the quality standards of the materials and the technical characteristics defined by the Network Operator.

After executing the connection tariff, the Network Operator shall issue the approval within the legal terms and guarantees the supply with electricity.
